This small cliff of greenschist with a SW exposure is located at the exit of the tunnel leading to the foot of the Grande Dixence Dam. It is ideal for families and beginners because of its closely clustered fixtures, its easy access and the large open area at the bottom.

These sports climbing routes were set up or re-done by the following climbers from the region in autumn 2021: Céline Gaspoz, Stéphane Biner, François-Xavier Dayer, Christophe Barnèdes, Etienne Jaccottet, Grégory Morand, Damien Monnet and Benoit Crettenand.

Climbers who set up this section in the years 1975–1980: Paul Dayer, Jean-Yves Dayer, Candide Pralong, Christian Genolet, Jean Hauser and Marcel Sierro.

Climbing exposes climbers to certain dangers and everyone is responsible for their own safety. Get trained! Neither the set-up team, nor the owner of the site nor the Municipality of Hérémerce accept any liability in the event of an accident.

We would like to thank the Municipality of Hérémerce for its support and the Plan Vertical association for the equipment.
